NATION WIDE STRIKE PLANNED

STRIKERS WILL NOT APPEAL TO THE COURTS

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Sept. 19.—Abandonment of plans for court action by the striking policemen and the calling of a special meeting tonight of the committee of the Central Labor Union delegated to receive reports of the strike vote taken by the individual locals during the past week revived discussion today of a possible general strike to support the police in their demand for union recognition. Reports from the majority of the affiliated unions were in the hands of the Central committee and it was expected that the recommendation to be made at the meeting of the Central Labor Union on Sunday would be considered and that a definite decision had been reached against going to the court in an effort to obtain reinstatement of the strikers. James H. Vahey, counsel for the Police Officers' Union gave no indication whether any other course had been determined upon. Police Commissioner Curtis began a state wide campaign today to fill the places of the strikers, which the Attorney General had ruled was vacant. A special appeal to former service men was made through newspaper advertisements. Recruits are offering a minimum salary of $1400 and their first uniform free. The Commissioner also announced that the uniform of the new force would be different from that now worn by the policemen. The dark blue visor cap will take the place of the present helmet and a military coat will be provided. The meeting announced for tonight at the Boston Social Club, the sole organization of the Boston policemen for 13 years previous to a union, caused considerable speculation. Included in the membership of the club are both striking and loyal policemen. The members of the Brookline fire department who are members of the International Association of Fire Fighters affiliated with the A. F. of L. are considering surrendering their charter. It was announced today. The date for the meeting to vote upon the question has not been set, but officials said the matter had been considered by the men and that the sentiment was strongly against continuing in the union. The uniform police force now numbers 641 men. Superintendent of Police Crowley said today. The normal uniform force is about 1300 men. The present force includes 105 patrolmen of experience, he said, the remainder being recent recruits. The department has been in receipt of many applications for places on the new force he said from men who served overseas, many of them as provost guards or military police and who require little training to develop them for municipal patrol work.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Nickels by the bushel, piled into a hotel room until the floor sagged under their weight, were found here when the police arrested Frank Boyles, Sioux City, Ia. (By Associated Press)

Pittsburg, Sept. 19.—Labor leaders from various sections of the country who attended the meeting here during the past two days of the National Committee for organizing iron and steel workers were on route to their homes today to make definite arrangements for the nation wide strike of iron and steel mill employees not working under union agreement which is to go into effect next Monday. All hopes for a postponement of the strike until after the industrial conference in Washington, October 9th, was lost yesterday when the committee voted down a motion to rescind the strike order and adopted a motion favoring the work.

EXPECT 50,000 PERSONS CAN HEAR WILSON

(By Associated Press)

San Diego, Cal., Sept. 19.—Arrangements whereby it was expected the sound of President Wilson's voice would reach a crowd far larger than any that has heard him speak on his present trip were in effect here today. Electrical apparatus for transmitting his words to all parts of the stadium which has a space for 50,000 people, were installed several days ago. Since yesterday morning, residents of the back country have been arriving here to see the President, some of them making automobile trips of several hundred miles.

ARRIVED HOME FROM NATIONAL CONVENTION

Henry S. Paul and daughter, Miss Edith M. Paul of Pleasant street, arrived Tuesday from Columbus, Ohio, having attended the National G. A. R. and Relief Corps Convention.

Miss Paul who is department senior vice of the Relief Corps, went as a delegate from New Hampshire. At the Women's Relief Corps convention there were 600 delegates and many Relief Corps members from the different states also. The convention opened on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 10 and was presided over by Eliza Brown Daggett of Attleboro, Mass. A memorial for national W. R. C. officers who had died in the past year was held, among these being past national president, Fannie Alcott of Concord. After the memorial to Mrs. Alcott, a memorial solo was rendered by Mrs. Laura Buckley of Milton, this state.

One of the impressive incidents of the Relief Corps convention was a delegation of Civil War army nurses, who were the guests of honor at one of the sessions. All had reached the age of 50 years and as they entered "Annie Laurie" was sung by the gathering and as they departed the Relief Corps members sang "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again."

The Grand Army parade on Wednesday, Sept. 19, was an impressive sight with 10,000 Civil War Veterans in line, who marched over a two mile route. Among the marchers was one veteran aged 90 years. Storer Post was represented in the line by Commander Horace Bradford and Henry S. Paul of this city, and Edward Greeley of Kittery. Every courtesy was extended the Grand Army men and automobiles were ready at every turn to offer the aged veterans drives to any point they wished.

SPORT NOTES OF INTEREST

Jamalen Kid, whose real name is Bob Buckley, will appear in a twelve round bout tonight at Clinton, Mass., against Cleve Hawkins of North Adams. The Jamalen Kid has a large following and until a few weeks ago was Jack Dempsey's best sparring partner. He was always willing to mix things with the champion and the fans who went to Dempsey's training camp were treated to many a good bout when Dempsey and Jamalen were in the ring.

The management of the Rockingham A. C. is planning a number of good boxing bouts for Portsmouth and if a suitable opponent can be secured Jamalen Kid will be seen in action here.

Pete Hartley, the "Battling Dane," to meet Frankie Confrey of New York in a double six round bout at Portland, Me., on the 26th of this month. The men will fight at about 135 lbs but will waive the weight limit. Benny Valgar, Willie Jackson and other lightweight stars refused to meet the tough sailor boy unless he would make 133 pounds or better. Hartley, however, who fears nobody, agreed to battle Confrey at catchweights, and his manager Leo Flynn, and Joe Moore, manager of Confrey, met and signed articles for the match.

Coach Conlon of the Rochester High school contemplates organizing a basketball team this winter.

The Boston Navy Yard baseball team will play the Diamond Match team at Biddeford Saturday afternoon. The Biddeford management expects to put a strong team in the field against the tars. For a pitcher the Maine manager has secured Lindstrom, who has been with the Worcester, Mass., Eastern league team this season, and who featured in a game at New Haven against New Haven in a 21-inning contest which was the championship order. It was the greatest game seen in New Haven for years and the large numbers of fans who saw the game all agreed that Lindstrom was fit for fast company.

The East Rochester baseball team will play South Berwick at South Berwick Saturday and the third and deciding game with Newmarket at Newmarket Sunday afternoon.

Of Exeter's last year winning eleven, several of the leading players will enter college and should furnish good material for this year's freshman eleven. Harvard gets the most as Bernard Cogan, guard and Philip Goodell and Arthur Hobson, tackles, will enroll at the Cambridge University. Jas. Kennedy, one of the leading school-boy halfbacks of the country, was intending to enter Georgetown, but he may decide to take another year in some preparatory school. There is also a possibility that Art Hobson may enter some other college. He may go to Dartmouth, Dartmouth will also get another good player for the freshman eleven this year in George P. Seamon, son of Hon. George Seamon, who played a tackle position on Andover in 1917. His being in the service prevented him from playing last season. Seamon also won his track letter at Andover by putting the shot.

Franklin, N. H. high school students do not expect to take part in football this fall. The gridiron sport was never strong in that city and the school coach is not enthusiastic about introducing the game this year.

Benny Valgar, the French flash, is a busy boxer. Saturday night he will box at the National A. A. in Philadelphia in a six round battle. Six nights later Valgar will appear in a bout at Cleveland with Matt Brock. Valgar is trying to arrange a match with Johnny Kilbane, the feather weight title holder.

Ralph Brady, the sensational Syracuse lightweight boxer and Tommy Toohey of Jersey City will meet in an eight round battle at Paterson, N. J., Sept. 23. A few days later Brady will fight Frankie Britt in Providence.

H. S. FOOTBALL PRACTICE STARTED

The high school foot ball squad were out twice this week for practice and about thirty boys showed up each day. There is a lot of good material and it will be sifted out until two teams are made up from these, then the school team will be selected. Instructor Cushman is at present acting as coach.

PAYS TRIBUTE TO BILL HORAN

The Concord Monitor in its report of the Navy Yard-Durgin base ball game says:

Horan's pitching was the best seen in Concord this year. He allowed but five hits, only three of which were clean, the other two being given the Durgin players on close decisions.

WANT RED CROSS

REMAIN

Franklin, N. H., Sept. 18.—Division headquarters of the Red Cross in Boston has refused to accept the resignation of Miss Alice Hearnsey, Red Cross nurse here. Miss Hearnsey announced her resignation last week following an investigation which found the Red Cross system in Franklin unsatisfactory.

The public health nursing committee of the Red Cross chapter here has been bringing every effort to induce Miss Hearnsey to reconsider her resignation.

TO DEPORT
EMMA GOLDMAN

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—It became known today that a warrant for the deportation of Emma Goldman was served on her last Friday in the Jefferson City Penitentiary, where she has about finished serving a two-year sentence for attempting to obstruct the Army draft.

New York, Sept. 18.—The Department of Labor has notified Harry Weinberger, counsel for Emma Goldman and Alexander Berkman, serving prison sentences for conspiracy to obstruct the draft, that upon their release they will be arrested immediately and held for deportation hearings. The term of Miss Goldman, who is being held in Jefferson City, Mo., expires on Sept. 27, and that of Berkman, who is in the Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, on Oct. 5.

Immigration authorities will give a hearing in Berkman's case at Atlanta Saturday. No date has been set for a hearing in the case of Miss Goldman.

Berkman and Miss Goldman were convicted by a jury July 9, 1917, and given the maximum sentence, two years in prison and a $10,000 fine. At the time of their conviction, Federal Judge Mayer ordered that the record in the case be sent to the immigration authorities "for such action as they may see fit to take" when the defendants were released.

Both Berkman and Miss Goldman were born in Russia. Each is about fifty years old. At the time of their conviction Berkman testified that he was not an American citizen and Miss Goldman said she was "not by application." Her father died an American citizen.

Under a recent Federal law aliens who have been twice convicted of a crime may be deported to the country from whence they came. Berkman served fourteen years in a Pennsylvania penitentiary following his conviction in 1892 on a charge of attempting the assassination of Harry C.

Trick and Miss Goldman served a year on Blackwell's Island in this city on a charge of inciting others to riot.

DECLARES DBULLITT BORE
PEACE TERMS TO BOLSHIEVIK

Paris, Sept. 18.—M. Louquet declared in the French chamber that when William C. Bullitt left Paris for Russia he bore peace terms offered by the Peace Conference to Russia—terms which had been edited by Premier Lloyd George and approved by President Wilson.

Premier Clemenceau arose at this juncture to protest.

"Mr. Lloyd George or Mr. Wilson never mentioned the matter to me," he declared.

M. Louquet then read what he said were the clauses in the peace terms taken to Russia by Bullitt as follows:

First—The immediate cessation of hostilities.

Second—The Bolshevik Government to control the territories it occupied at the time.

Third—Freedom of seaports and railroads.

Fourth—Free passage for the Allies across Russia.

Fifth—General amnesty for political prisoners.

Sixth—Resumption of commercial relations between Russia and the Allies.

Seventh—Immediate Russian demobilization.

After the reading of these clauses by the speaker, Premier Clemenceau reiterated.

"Neither Mr. Lloyd nor Mr. Wilson at any time spoke to me about such terms."

WILL SEE THAT THE LAW IS CARRIED OUT

The following is a copy of the letter sent to Industrial Plants in New Hampshire.

In view of the law concerning the attendance of non-English speaking minors at school, the State Board of Education suggests that some competent person in every industrial plant, large or small, be charged with the responsibility of seeing that the law is carried out.

It would be the duty of this plant representative to pass upon the qualifications of all the employees between the ages of 16 and 21, referring doubtful cases to the superintendent of schools for examination. All who cannot speak and read the English language understandingly would send to the office of the superintendent of schools for certificates of registration at evening or special day schools.

The official appointed would also be instructed to represent the plant in the whole problem of Americanization. He would receive the reports of attendance from the office of the superintendent of schools, investigate absences and file his influence toward getting into school and keeping in school all foreign-born and native-born employees who might profit there from.

Details as to the checking up of non-English-speaking minors in each town or city will be taken up with you by the local school superintendents, to whom copies of this letter will be sent.

The writer remembers, with great satisfaction your generous help in working out our Americanization problems last year, and believes you will agree that further cooperation cannot fail to produce results satisfactory, and beneficial to the state, yourselves and all concerned.

Our Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Marc S. Brooks, will have special supervision of this work and will be ready to confer with you and your representative freely and at all times. We desire to get practical and good results with as little inconvenience to you as possible.

Very truly,

BANDIT KILLS
CONCORD MAN

Concord, Sept. 18.—Word has been received in Concord of the death of Charles W. Tarleton, for many years a well known resident of this city, in Porto Rico, death resulting from injuries received in the hands of a robber he met in the mountainous region.

Mr. Tarleton entered missionary work for the Baptist Missionary society about two years ago, and was sent to Porto Rico. He has been at work in the mountainous section, near Rio Piedras. A short time ago he was stoned by a native, then clubbed into unconsciousness. He was robbed of his money and his watch by his assailant who left him, believing him dead. Mr. Tarleton was picked up by some natives and taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where he was a patient for some time, finally dying as the result of his injuries.

He was about 77 years old, and is survived by two children, Major Leeson Tarleton, who is in Paris with the

IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY
PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Nitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are suffering continually for some months by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of their hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant beauty of health and attractiveness. It is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English-speaking countries as Nitro-Phosphate. The assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a flesh of perfect health and beauty and the will and strength to be up and doing.

CAUTION:—While Nitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it who do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods.

Memories of the Stage Coach.

The death at Augusta, Me., a few days ago of William G. Moody, an old-time stage driver, well known all through the region in which he lived and performed his lifework, will awaken many pleasant memories of other days, the days in which the stage coach was a popular and honored institution and the stage driver was in the great majority of cases a local celebrity.

Mr. Moody was a native of Maine and had in his makeup the old-fashioned sturdy New England qualities. When a young man he went to Boston, but after working there only a few years he returned to his native state, where he was engaged in stage driving for more than thirty years. The different lines on which he was employed were between Farmington and Phillips, Farmington and Augusta, Belfast and Augusta, and Augusta and Rockland, and he is well and pleasantly remembered by the older people of those regions. Mr. Moody was a veteran of the Civil War and was for some time a railroad engineer, but he preferred horses to engines and later returned to stage driving, and still later engaged in the livery stable business.

There was a charm about stage coaching which is impossible in connection with the railroad, superior as this is as a means of transportation. No one would willingly go back to the stage coach, but those old enough to remember the days when stage lines were still comparatively common in many sections that had not yet been penetrated by the "iron horse" are not without pleasant memories of journeys taken behind spanking teams of four or more horses under control of an expert reinsman, in the old-time "thoroughbrace" coaches which would rock a person to sleep on an ordinary road and wake him up when a rough stretch was encountered by throwing him against the roof of the vehicle.

But notwithstanding the excellence of the horses and the beauty of the scenery in the regions through which many of the stages ran, the chief charm of a journey by stage was, to many people, the driver. The seat by his side, and those near by on the roof of the vehicle were always in demand in pleasant weather. The driver had to serve as guide, companion and local historian, and this most drivers delighted in doing. They would explain all matters of interest along the road and could reel local history and tradition by the hour, while there were cases in which these seemed to be dealt out by the yard. But, of course, well-bred people never questioned the veracity of the stage driver, for if what he told them wasn't genuine history it was usually mighty entertaining fiction.

Sweet are the memories of the old stage days and the old stage drivers. It is impossible for the railroad conductor to achieve any such fame as came to the man who occupied the "box" behind the horses which responded to his touch almost as perfectly as does the locomotive to that of the engineer.

Those were the "good old days." The greatest luxuries of travel then would be considered hardships now, but there were things in that happy long ago which were worth living for, and among these was a ride through a stretch of New England countryside on a pleasant day seated beside the driver, a position which permitted one to see all that was to be seen and hear all that was to be heard.

Men arrested in Boston for engaging in disturbances during the recent upheaval have been placed under heavy bonds. This is a good beginning and it is to be hoped the courts will not overlook the seriousness of the offenses when the time comes for trial. If the "majesty of the law" is not upheld in such cases as these it will be time to stop talking about law, order and civilization.

At a recent convention of southern cotton growers it was decided to fix a minimum price on cotton and to organize a buyers' association to take charge of the crop and hold it till it brings the price. It would be interesting to know whether action of this kind would not come under the head of hoarding, about which there is considerable agitation just now.

The State College at Durham is overcrowded and no further applications for admission will be considered. It is apparent that the worth of this institution is appreciated by young men seeking an education to fit them for the practical affairs of life.

It is now proposed to extend the effort to reduce the cost of living so as to include shoes, clothing and other articles. But would it not be well for the government first to show what it can do toward bringing down the cost of food?

One hen roost robber has come to grief in Dover and been sent to prison. No wonder that certain classes are shouting that there is no more liberty in this country.

President Wilson appeals to Republicans to forget 1920 when considering the Peace Treaty. And there are some Republicans who might well heed the appeal.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Never More Conspicuous
(From the St. Paul Pioneer Press)
Boston is suffering a temporary eclipse as the most aristocratic spot on the western hemisphere from which to hail.

Boston Bill Sound and Safe
(From the Shore and Leather Reporter)
Thanks to Governor Coolidge the striking police were not able to take the bus out of Boston.

Gonipore Grows in Wisdom
(From the Springfield Union)
President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor is wise in urging a postponement of the threatened strike until after the industrial conference in Washington, called for Oct. 6, by President Wilson, and the steel workers will show wisdom if they accept his recommendation. All industrial disputes and labor troubles are susceptible to satisfactory adjustment without strikes, provided both parties show a willingness to meet on reasonable ground, and if the Washington conference comes anywhere near fulfilling its intention, there should be no difficulty in arriving at a fair and just settlement of the trouble now agitating the steel workers.

Training for Policemen
(From the Omaha Bee)
A friend again The Bee to state what sort of training is contemplated for the policeman of the future. It is rather difficult to give a comprehensive outline in a few words. We can easily fix essential requirements for an ideal policeman. He must be intelligent, courageous, possessed of self-control, have an understanding of the rudiments of the civil as well as the criminal law, this to supplement the regulations in his book of rules, and be wholly devoted to the service of the public. Only evil-doers should fear him, and all should respect him; such a man will naturally respect himself. To this training may be added detailed knowledge of matters that would come within the purview of the police department. He should be carefully selected in first-aid processes, be versed in many things that need not here be enumerated but most of which will suggest themselves to one who studies even casually what is involved in preserving peace and order in a busy city. Such men do not abound but must be made. A field for a specialist is here open. Let a training course for policemen be established with the support of the several city governments of the country, or give such opportunity in connection with the regular work, and make it an object for the men to fit themselves for better service and possible advancement, and the public will be the gainers.

Americanization by Education
(From the Chicago News)
Secretary Lane of the federal department of the interior has appeared before the education committee of the Senate to advocate his plan—now embodied in a bill—for the Americanization of the 8,000,000 alien and semi-alien residents of the country who cannot read or speak the English language. The revolutionary agitator who foolishly imagines that American institutions can be overthrown as easily as can autocratic or feudal governments that rest on physical force finds most of his dupes among illiterate persons of foreign birth who do not know what America is, how it is governed and by what principles it lives politically and morally.

Mr. Lane is right in affirming that one of the most effective ways of dealing with industrial unrest is to educate and thoroughly Americanize the illiterate. For this purpose he proposes a system of local, state and national cooperation in financing evening schools, factory schools, neighborhood and settlement courses in English, civics, history and American ideas and ideals.

The plan was first presented by the secretary in an annual report. It was discussed and approved over a year ago at a national conference on Americanization. Men and women who have worked among immigrants and know their mental habits are thoroughly convinced that without liberal funds and adequate machinery to promote Americanization all the talk about the need of this process will end in nothing.

The bill advocated by Mr. Lane provides that Federal aid shall be extended to any State which furnishes an equal sum of money for Americanization work out of its own treasury. The funds would be used only for the payment and training of teachers, supervisors and directors of the educational work contemplated and certain standards and methods would be prescribed by a commission appointed by Congress.

This there has come to coordinate all the scattered agencies that are engaged in Americanization work and make their activities more fruitful and systematic. Congress must prepare itself to take the initiative by intelligently supplying the State, local and private agencies with incentives to put forth better and more extensive efforts.

No Stampede of the Senate
(From the Boston Transcript)
Final action of the Versailles treaty is now being by the United States Senate. With the treaty already reported from the Foreign Relations Committee, the Senate is proceeding with commendable speed to a conclusion of this document, perhaps the most important that has ever been presented to the American people. Precipitate haste in the disposition of the treaty itself, or the amendments and reservations attached thereto, would be disloyalty to the best interests of the American people.

Senator Lodge, in writing the majority report, has clearly shown the external pressure for haste brought to bear on his committee, and at the same time analyzed the agencies that were responsible for this hysterical demand. These same Administration-inspired agencies have now turned their attention to the Senate as a whole, using the worst form of a tyranny of a minority to bring about a hasty and unreserved ratification of the treaty by the Senate. If the Senate should comply with these demands, it would be a clear triumph for the Administration "forces" plex for an instantaneous ratification along the exact lines laid down by the President. Equally clearly, such a course would involve a surrender of the Senate's constitutional rights, and a betrayal of the country into the autocratic power of one man.

The debate on the treaty, and the amendments recommended, cannot be terminated in a day or a week. It may very well last for two or three months. The treaty itself is a lengthy document, and every member of the Senate should feel free publicly to discuss any one of the many articles that make up the treaty. Such a programme of public discussion will not prove pleasing to certain interests, whose desire for ratification is based on considerations of private gain, far removed from any regard for the public good. But free and open discussion by the Senate will serve to educate the public as to the significance and meaning of the treaty which the United States is asked to accept. Such discussion will crystallize and make articulate the will and desire of the people. And when the treaty is finally acted upon, a grateful people will remember that the collective power of the Senate in the time of crisis and abnormal outside pressure remained firm against a hysterical surrender of the principles of the American Constitution.

A Belated Recognition
(From the Wall River News)
Congressman George Holden "Tink" Ham is reminding Congress of a plain duty which it owes to those men of the Navy who first crossed the Atlantic in the air. He has introduced a resolution in the House providing that the thanks of the nation be officially presented to Lieutenant Commander Albert C. Read and his crew of the NC-4. The bill also provides for the bestowal of a special medal for the men in recognition of their historic exploit.

It is now five months since this feat was accomplished and the NC-4 set down in the harbor of Ponta Delgada in the Azores, winning the race for first honors in crossing the Atlantic in the air. While we have applauded these men we have left them without due expression of our thanks. Meanwhile Great Britain has decorated Hawker and Grievens who failed in their attempt, though they dared bravely, and she has raised to knighthood Alcock and Brown, the successful British contestants. We have no rightness to borrow in reward of equal accomplishments, but our country has its own ways of expressing gratitude, and in such an achievement as that of these men there should have been no long delay in rendering such recognition.

The First President of the United States and the Twenty-Eighth
(From the New York Sun)

Just one hundred and twenty-five years ago George Washington was engaged in quelling a rebellion of riot and violence in some of the counties of western Pennsylvania and an adjoining region in Virginia. The first President did the job with promptness, energy and clear perception of his duty to the Constitution which he had sworn to preserve, protect and defend. This uprising against the Constitution and the laws is known in American history as the Whiskey Insurrection. In Washington's own words, a spirit of defiance of the law and of indifference to the Constitution had been "fostered and embittered by the attitude of men who labored for an ascendancy over the will of others by the guidance of their passions." In an address to Congress reporting the incident and reciting the circumstances of the suppression of the rebellion, Washington said:

"It has demonstrated that our prosperity rests on solid foundations, by furnishing an additional proof that my fellow citizens understand the true principles of government and liberty; that they feel their inseparable union that notwithstanding all the devices which have been used to sway them from their interest and duty they are now as ready to maintain the authority of the laws again; that they are now as ready to defend their rights against usurpation. It has been a spectacle displaying to the highest advantage the value of republican government to behold the most and the least wealthy of our citizens standing in the same ranks as private soldiers, preeminently distinguished by being the army of the Constitution."

And in words so peculiarly appropriate to this day—Constitution Day—that we here reiterate them, the first President continued:

"To every description of citizens, indeed, let praise be given. But let them preserve in their affectionate vigilance over that precious depositary of American happiness, the Constitution of the United States."

Precious depositary, indeed, of our happiness and national prosperity! In contrast with Washington's affectionate and vigilant attitude toward the immortal instrument thus by him described, what shall be said of the spectacle now afforded by another President of the United States, the twenty-seventh after him in line of succession, who has undertaken an expedition to a much farther West than that to which Washington sent fifteen thousand Americans under General Wayne to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution?

Has President Wilson in all his voluminous writings about constitutional government in the United States, in all his unnumbered speeches on the genius of our institutions, ever manifested the least real sympathy with the Constitution of the United States, the slightest understanding of its significance in the aspect in which it was regarded by his great predecessor, the first President?

"Precious depositary of American happiness."

That precious depositary he is at this very time doing his utmost to destroy by insidious appeals to the forces of anarchy and disorder, just as he is endeavoring to break down the policy which Washington bequeathed to his fellow countrymen as the safeguard of American independence and national greatness. On this Constitution Day it is well that the true import of President Wilson's two interferences should be clearly kept in mind.

Are the people of the United States going to line up with George Washington or with Woodrow Wilson?

AL. NELSON TO MAKE TRIP TO BALTIMORE

Battling Al Nelson, the local welterweight, has received offers of several bouts with heavies in his division, and will leave for Baltimore in six months. Jack Ward, the old-time featherweight battler, has tendered the offers to the local battler.

Ward, who saw Nelson in a few bouts last year, has been hankering for Al's services for the past several months. Bouts with J. O. Loughlin and other good boys await the Dane.

according to the Baltimore promoter. After knocking Irish Paddy Sullivan recently, Al is convinced he is in for a big year. He wants to mingle with a few of the good boys before departing for Maryland and bouts with Joe Egan, Johnny Wilson, Joe Rivers and the rest would be particularly welcome, he says.

PANIC DIDN'T AFFECT HIM.

Omaha Policeman Had His Own Way of Saving His Gold.

Omaha, Sept. 19.—When the money panic several years ago struck Omaha, Police Sergeant Harry Cook had several hundred dollars saved up and on deposit in one of the banks.

He was fearful of losing his money by bank failures, as there were numerous others all over the country. He devised a burglar proof safety deposit contrivance of his own. He got a piece of gas pipe, plugged both ends and through a hole in one end he suspended the depository as a sack weight in one of his windows at home.

He drew all his savings in gold from the bank and filled the sackweight with it. This was undoubtedly the most valuable sackweight in Omaha at that time or since.

"A thief will never look there for my money, and if the house burns down the gold will still be there," said Harry to himself. He pulled through without any loss.

Women Are Fully Awake to the Situation

(From the Concord Monitor)

However, one good thing has resulted from the session of the Legislature and the decision to ratify the amendment. The women of the state are fully awake to the situation and many are beginning to realize that they are being used as a cat's paw to pull certain political chestnuts out of the fire. They are satisfied that certain enemies of Senator Moses intend, if they can, to use them to accomplish personal political ends and a wave of opposition is arising to such unprincipled methods all over the state. It means one thing: Whatever they think about suffrage, and whether or not they will be allowed the cause to be used to further the political aims which already have begun to leave in their trail all over the state a most unpleasant odor. The women of New Hampshire can be relied on to vote as they sincerely believe for the best interests of the state and they will unquestionably rebuke those men who have tried to use, or will try to use, the cause of the women for selfish purposes. So once more has a roorback roared, and it will roar still more as thus goes on and election day approaches.

ESTABLISHED IN NEW QUARTERS

J. Vernon Wood, who recently removed his undertaking establishment from 13 Daniel street to his new quarters at the colonial Buckminster House, 7 Islington street, is now well established in his new and spacious quarters, opposite the Portsmouth public library and the high school.

Mr. Wood has had the aid of the very best authorities in planning and arranging his new establishment, making it one of the most modern and up to date funeral homes, yet he has carefully refrained from disturbing the beautiful colonial architecture of this fine old mansion, built by John Warner in 1720. Among the many new features is a chapel with every up-to-date equipment to be used exclusively for funeral services.

Mr. Wood, who is a business man of much ability, with an efficient and courteous staff, is prepared to render every possible service, in connection with his work and has affiliations with the leading funeral directors throughout the United States. His establishment is one of the most up to date to be found in the state, or in fact, in New England.

The Buckminster House was the home of the Rev. Dr. Buckminster after his marriage in 1810, to the widow of Colonel Lord and is one of the fine old mansions in which our city takes pride. It is in the heart of the city and near all the car lines and its situation is all that can be desired. / h 21 s19

LETTERS TO SOLDIERS HAVE GONE ASTRAY

Vladivostok, Sept. 18.—Hundreds of letters intended for American soldiers in Siberia have gone astray because of incorrect addresses, according to S.
A. Cider, United States postal agent in Siberia, who was sent here with the American Expeditionary Forces to look after the mail for the doughboys.
Many letters intended for Siberia were sent to Archangel when American troops were there, and many letters intended for Archangel were sent to Vladivostok.

The correct address for letters to Siberia is: Name, unit, A. E. F., Siberia, via San Francisco. Writing the unit in which the soldier belongs in the address saves at least 24 hours in delivery of mail upon reaching the A. E.
F. base in Siberia. Mail addressed to unit is delivered from the ship at Vladivostok without being redistributed at the main United States postoffice here.

All the big trans-Pacific liners are used for carrying mail to Japan and thence to Siberia and some ships make the trip direct from Vladivostok to America. Two boats leave Vladivostok each week for Japan, connecting with the mail liners for America.
"The soldiers in Siberia are a long way from home and every letter from America makes the stay here that much easier," says the United States postal agent, who urges that more letters be written.

Three American postoffices have been established in Siberia at American troop centers. One is at Shkotovo, 30 miles northeast of Vladivostok, another is at Spasskoe, 180 miles north and the third is at Verkhne Ussinsk, 1,791 miles northwest of Vladivostok.
These postoffices are for use of the A.
E. F. The American Red Cross, the Y.
M. C. A. and the Russian Railway Service Corps. American civilians in Siberia obtain their mail through the Russian postoffice.

BUY YOUR COAL NOW

Harry A. Garfield, U. S. Fuel Administrator, says:
"Buy now—in August or the Autumn will be too late. A big coal shortage is coming. Thousands of miners are going back to Europe.
Coal production has fallen off considerably and a shortage of many million tons looks probable. My advice to consumers is to buy NOW while they can get a selection and DELIVERY."
"I feel bound to say that, as the situation, we are likely to experience a coal famine in the Fall."
Walker T. Hines, Director Gen. of U. S. Railroad Administration, says:
"Unless the consumer buys his coal this summer he is going to find it difficult to get it this Fall and Winter. I predict a shortage of cars because of resumption of business in general, with which the coal industry must share transportation facilities. There are plenty of cars today and consumers of coal are urged to use them while they can get them."

LIVING CONDITIONS
NEAR NORMAL

Coblenz, Sept. 18.—Living conditions in the interior of Germany are rapidly adjusting themselves as a result of the lifting of the blockade. However, according to the German newspapers, it may be years before food prices become normal or actually the same as before the war. Some German editorial writers, complaining of high prices at the present time and during the war, contend with bitterness that the few cost of living enjoyed by Germany for so many years is gone forever.

As an indication of improvement in the food situation in one German city
the Kolonialwaren Zeitung of Leipzig says:

"Proteining trade prices plainly show a falling off, since the lifting of the blockade. The overcharges on pork have long since been removed and the fat shortage has ceased. To be sure the demand for fresh meat is as great now as before in consequence of the cessation of domestic slaughtering.
This need, however, is covered in the main by the restoration. Everywhere one finds, in the eating places, beef, veal and pork meat without limit and at reasonable prices. One can once more eat at noon in Cologne for 4.50 marks and in a wine restaurant for 5.50 marks; therefore, it appears as if conditions are coming, which are acceptable."

GREET CARDINAL
MERCIER IN
N. Y. CAPITAL

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 18.—President
Cardinal Mercier, primate of Belgium, arrived in Albany at 11:30 A. M. today.
Accompanied by a military escort and an enthusiastic committee of welcome, he was driven thru crowd-lined and flag-draped streets to the capital, where he was formally welcomed to New York state by Gov. Smith.

As a climax to his formal welcome to the state, the University of the State of New York conferred upon Cardinal Mercier the degree of doctor of laws.

This distinction hitherto had been conferred upon only three persons:
Ellis Root, Thomas A. Edison and Julius J. Rossignol, French ambassador to the United States.

INTERNATIONAL
CHEMISTS IN CONVENTION

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Delegates from England, France, Spain, Mexico and other countries, including industrial leaders and the keenest experimenters in the chemical world, are expected to participate in the Fifth National Exposition of Chemical Industries which will be held here in connection with four important meetings of chemical societies, September 22-27.
The societies are the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers; the American Ceramic Society, the American Electro-Chemical Society and the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry.

Three hundred and thirty exhibits representative of forty different industries, will be shown to prove that Germany has been surpassed in her own field and that America now easily leads the world in the chemical arts.
Through the exhibits and the papers to be read at the meetings of the various societies the world it is said will learn authoritatively just what America accomplished in the laboratory
during the war.

Much of this war development, it is declared, will be equally valuable in peace. Experiences with poison gas for example resulted in the invention of masks and other devices to protect workers in industry from noxious fumes. Substitutes have been found for the drugs and dyes formerly imported from Germany, a potash industry valued at $31,001,026 has been built up, and new processes have been found for hardening steel, bronze and other metals.

Among the exhibits promised at the exposition are acid and alkali proof bronze of such hardness and strength that it is made into instruments to cut the hardest steels. The Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry plans to show all the stages of paper-making from the tree to the finished product and the United States Bureau of Mines will show safety appliances and paraphernalia for guarding the workers in mines and industrial plants.

A committee composed of some of the foremost industrial chemists of the country is in charge of the exposition. It is headed by Dr. Charles H.
Herty, of New York, and includes Raymond P. Bacon, director of the Mellon Institute; L. H. Baekeland, member of the Naval Consulting Board; W. D.
Hawcroft, president of the American Electrochemical Society; Henry B.
Faber, of the Industrial Filtration Corporation; Ellwood Hendrick, president of the Chemists' Club; Bernard C.
Hess, of the General Chemical Company; W. H. Nichols, president of the American Chemical Society; R. P. Perry, president of the Barrett Company;
G. W. Thompson, president of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers;
T. B. Wagner, U. S. Food Products
Corporation; M. C. Whittaker, president of the U. S. Industrial Chemical Company; A. D. Little and H. C.

tude of 34,600 feet above sea level, according to the reading of his baroheight of 34,500.

PRESIDENT
OPPOSED TO ALL
POLICE UNIONS

Washington, Sept. 18.—President Wilson is opposed to the affiliation of a police union with the American Federation of Labor or any other organization. He said in a telegram received today by Louis Brownlow, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the District of Columbia, that any such association of the police force of any great city "should in no case be countenanced or permitted."

The President's telegram which Mr.
Brownlow read to the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia, follows:

I hope that you understand my brief telegram of the other day. I am quite willing that you should tell the Senate committee that my position in my conversations with you was exactly the same as I have expressed recently, in speeches here in the West, and of course I am desirous as you are of dealing with the police force in the most just and generous way, but that I think that any association of the police forces of the capital city, of any great city, whose object is to bring pressure upon the public or the community such as will endanger the public peace or embarrass the maintenance of order should, in no case, be countenanced or permitted.

(Signed) Woodrow Wilson.
Mr. Brownlow told the committee that he believed the policemen of Washington organized their union under the strength of speeches made by "labor leaders." He expressed the belief that if the policemen took another vote they would withdraw from the American Federation of Labor. He urged Congress to act promptly on the bill to increase the pay of the policemen. Asked if the capital-labor conference to be held at the White House next month would take up the question of policemen of various cities af-filating with the Federation, he replied that he did not know positively but he believed it would.

TEN MILLION
FOR CHILDREN
OF FRANCE

Paris, Sept. 18.—M. Cognacq, "the Carnegie of France" has given 57,000,- 000 francs to the Academy of Medicine to be divided into bursaries of 25,000 francs each to be distributed to families of nine children born of the same marriage.

The funds will not necessarily be donated to the poorest families, but to the most deserving. "These families a year ago had to live on bread and the food of the land. They are now to pay for the tuition of the children or establish them in their trades according to the judgment of the investigators appointed by the academy.

Asked why he had specified that children must be born of the same marriage, M. Cognacq said: "In order to prevent a widower with five children from marrying a widow with four for the sole purpose of obtaining the 25,000 francs."

M. Cognacq accumulated his wealth in the sale of dry goods, owning a large department store on the left bank of the Seine. In 1917 he gave 40,000,000 francs for war relief work.

YANKS RELEASE
FIRST BATCH OF HUN PRISONERS

Coblenz, Sept. 17 (Associated Press)
—With the colors of the old German flag flying from the coach windows,
the first train of repatriated German prisoners from the American camps in France arrived in American occupied territory today. When the train left Coblenz for the interior of Germany,
however, the colors had disappeared.
They had been torn from the train by the military police, and the American officer in charge reprimanded and relaxed from duty. The prisoners comprised 5000 officers on their way to Limburg, where the Americans will turn over to the German authorities.

BULGARIAN TREATY SIMILAR TO AUSTRIAN

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Sept. 18.—Summary of
of the Bulgarian treaty of peace were abled to the state department today by the United States delegation at Paris. It follows very closely the Austrian treaty and in many of the clauses is identical with the exception of the change in names. Regarding changes in the Bulgarian frontier on the south, Bulgaria cedes Thrace to the Associated Powers and agreed to whatever disposition they made of it. The western frontier is changed in places for the benefit of Serbia.

LOCAL GUNNER WIN EXETER'S LAST SHOOT

R. Harold Ham won the turkey shoot at the Exeter Gun Club on Thursday afternoon, with a score of 16 out of 50. Harry T. Wendell of this city was second with 45. The shoot was the last of the season for the Exeter Gun Club and there were about eighteen shooters out.

The Portsmouth Country Club will have a shoot on Saturday afternoon at their traps, and a set of handsome game pictures will be given to the winner. The pictures are fine colored prints of game birds and they would be a welcome addition to any gunner's rooms.

The Exeter Gun Club is to hold its annual supper at Cutler's, Hampton Beach in October and Game Commissioner Bartlett will be one of the speakers and may of the wardens will be present. The meeting after the supper will have several live speakers and be devoted to trap shooting and preservation of game.

A hunting contest between the members of the Exeter Gun Club and the Portsmouth gunners, with a game dinner to follow at the Portsmouth Country Club is being arranged for the last of October. It will be somewhat of an innovation and there is great interest in it.

MAY GET VOTE ON TREATY NEXT WEEK

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 18.—Republican leaders made ready for the first test vote on the peace treaty, when they today sent word to Senator Johnson, author of the amendment to equalize Great Britain's vote in the Council, to return to Washington at once, so that the amendment could be taken up for debate and be disposed of one way or the other.

Until the message was sent by Senator Borah after a conference with Senator Lodge chairman of the Foreign Relations committee, the report had persisted that Senator Johnson might be absent for several weeks. Senator Lodge had said that there

POLICE UNION WILL SUBMIT CASE TO COURT

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Sept. 18.—Speculation as to how the striking police officers might bring their case before the courts, was abruptly dropped today by the union, and their legal counsel who abandoned all idea of seeking the courts said, James H. Vahney counsel for the police union said that while the question of the courts had been seriously considered it had not been given up. He refused to say what brought about this change which labor men thought was in opening for the police to get back by appealing to the court as to Police Commissioner Curtis' authority, and their reinstatement pending the decision of the court. He refused also to talk about the future steps that would be taken.

In advertising tomorrow for men to replace the strikers the police department will call attention to the fact that the minimum wage has been increased to $14.00 and that the department will furnish the first uniform. It will also call attention to the fact that men on discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who are ordered to report to a special examining board headed by former Supt. W. H. Pierce. This board will pass upon the physical fitness of the men who will then be sent to the Civil Service Commission for a non competitive examination, provided under the act of the legislature to give veterans preference.

Commissioner Curtis has only obtained from the Civil Service commission 100 names and he has places for 1000.

Why You Should Buy Coal Now

The price of coal is 75 per cent determined by wages. The wage agreement at the mines continues until April 1, 1920. The Fuel Administration reports that 35 per cent of the mines cannot make any money at the present mine prices. In view of this, how can coal be cheaper this year?

HARD WORK TO GET LABOR FOR CITY WORK

There is considerable complaint about the conditions of some of the streets and the slowness of the street department in making repairs. The reason advanced by the Board of Public Works is the inability to get labor. The city is paying its laborers $3 a day, while the state is paying 50 cents an hour and the contractors 55 cents an hour on the state road, while all other jobs are paying labor 50 cents an hour. It is small wonder under these conditions that the department cannot get sufficient help.

HEAVY FROST DOES DAMAGE TO LOW LAND

There was a heavy frost on Thursday morning all thru this section of the country, and it is reported in the low land to have done considerable damage to late crops. The prospects are for another frost this morning as last night was very cold and the temperature was dropping. Longfellow near the frost line.

JITNEYS ARE RUINING STREET RAILWAYS

The Commission said that a serious situation confronted the Eastern Massachusetts railway, owing to the great number of jitney lines that were operating in that district.

BUILDING MARKED FOR WAR HEROES

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Sept. 18.—There has just been placed on the wall of a building at 212 rue Saint-Maur a marble tablet to the memory of 25 of its former tenants who died on the battlefield. Of 180 workmen who lived in the tenement 85 went to war and only 60 returned. "Never forget those who fell as heroes for the defense of the Fatherland and the liberty of the peoples" says the inscription on the tablet. The names of the 25 dead follow, beginning with Corporal Charles Bonnet, the first to fall, on September 21, 1914, and ending with Andre Lebailly, killed on November 11, 1918, the very last day of hostilities. Under the tablet there is a palm with this dedication: "To the boys of 212 rue Saint-Maur who died for France."

Judge Clarence H. Bates opened the civil session of the U. S. District Court in Portland on Thursday morning. The case of Daniel Mahoney and his wife, Nellie M. Mahoney, of Greenland, N. Auction of Real Estate The Historic Jaffrey House

At 31 Linden Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

Wednesday, Sept. 24, 1919

at 11 o'clock A. M.

This historic old house, built about 1720, by Gen. Jaffrey, member of the King's Council for the Province of N. H. and Treas. of the Province, though now somewhat dilapidated in appearance, still bears marks of its former architectural beauty. There is a fine old hall and stairway, with its curious balustrade, the old San Domingo mahogany stair rail, much fine panelling and some carved woodwork and old Dutch bibelot tiling, some old brasses on the doors and a fantom corner cupboard with good carved woodwork, said to be the best example in the country. There are about 20 rooms in the house, and the lot on which it stands is high and slightly and just off the main street. Terms of sale: $200 down at time of sale; balance on delivery of deed.

GOOD MUSIC.

Bill Dow, who promoted the dance at Freeman's hall last Tuesday evening, states that people from all sections of the city are still referring to the wonderful music put over by Marlow's orchestra on that occasion. In speaking of their next engagement on Oct. 14, he says the public can look for a top-notch attraction with an augmented orchestra in addition to his novelties, cabaret attractions, comedy stars, etc. Bill says it's going to be one big night.

Here's a splendid showing of toggery for fall. The neckwear display is a very brilliant one and includes many beautiful and novel color effects. The knitted ties will be extremely popular the coming winter and we have anticipated the demand. We've a good showing of them already. Our hosiery stock is very large and covers everything from "work hose" to high grade silks and the softest of wools.

Contemplation.

To be pleased permanently with anything that we buy, the item of purchase must represent something that will hold for us life-long interest and satisfaction. It would be hard to imagine anyone viewing in after years with happy retrospection, say, for instance, a dining room suite of mahogany furniture unless that possession represented the purest in design, the most perfect in materials, workmanship, finish; built for permanent style—not passing fashion; in other words, a suite from Margeson Brothers, right here in Portsmouth.

Dining room hospitality—if there is any genialty or good fellowship in a family—it must shine forth in the dining room. Many families never gather "all together" except in that room. It is therefore, the heart of the home, most important center of life to them all.

We are ready to help you in the furnishing which will make your room what it ought to be.
